DECLARATION

I, Laurier Falldien, the named inventor of the subject Application, a Canadian citizen, residing in Sudbury, Ontario, Canada, hereby Declare and state, that:

1. I attended Laurentian University in Sudbury, Ontario in 1991-1993, studying chemistry and biology in the biology major course. As a consequence, this gave me a sound knowledge of formula compilation, and of substance interaction with the human body.
2. At that time, in 1993 I owned and operated a studio business providing body piercings, and I became experienced in the normal healing sequences associated with the aftermath of such piercings.
3. I became dissatisfied with the performance of the currently available aftercare products for piercings, that were in use at the time, and decided to develop a more effective piercing treatment.
4. As a consequence, I did additional research on natural healing, and compiled a list of potential ingredients that I thought might be integrated into a product to promote natural healing. This list of potential ingredients was submitted to the Biology
